This is an anteroposterior (AP) radiograph of the lumbar spine. The image shows the bony structures of the vertebrae from the L1 level down to the pelvis. A clear fracture line is visible in the anterior aspect of the L5 vertebral body. The fracture extends horizontally across the middle of the vertebral body. The surrounding soft tissue and the bony structures of the adjacent vertebrae (L4 and S1) appear relatively normal. The image is in grayscale, typical of medical radiography.
